I am proactive because:

I do not like to sit still when I see that something needs to be done. I would rather take the lead myself than wait for someone else to start. That suits me, because I like to stay active and take responsibility.

I am communicative because:

I easily connect with other people and actively take part in conversations. During collaboration, I notice that I quickly seek alignment and communicate clearly, which makes working together smooth and pleasant.

I am goal-oriented because:

I like to work with a clear goal in mind. When I know what I want to achieve, I can truly focus on it and work towards it step by step. I get satisfaction from noticing that I have worked consciously towards something and actually achieved it.
