

Have no fear, Koen is here!

Available hours per week:

40

Available on:

When I'm needed

Holiday:

On a mountainbike, in nature. Last time in Italy, next time in Iceland!

Exam tip/ life tip:

Take a bit of time to go through all questions before you pick up the pen.
(this also applies to life)

I am solution oriented because:

Every situation, student and partner requires a different approach. There is always a challenge, but there is also always a solution. I want to get to that solution together as effective and sustainable as possible.

I show responsibility because:

Our employees depend on us for their income, our clients for getting things done within their company. These are responsibilities I don't take lightly! I will always have the best interests of all stakeholders at heart.

I am a builder because:

Working together means learning together, especially if you are dealing with people. In time, we can build a partnership that provides flexibility to your organization while nurturing and developing talent.